POST GRADUATE DIPLOMA PROGRAMMES – 2022

Post Graduate Diploma in Horticultural Therapy & Post Graduate Diploma in Landscaping and Ornamental Gardening

INTRODUCTION

a. Post Graduate Diploma in Horticultural Therapy

Horticultural therapy is defined as the engagement of a person in gardening and plant-based activities, facilitated by a trained therapist, to achieve specific therapeutic treatment goals. Horticultural therapists are specially educated and trained members of rehabilitation teams (with doctors, psychiatrists, psychologists, occupational therapists and other) who involve the client in all phases of gardening, from propagation to selling products, as a means of bringing about improvement in their life.

This course is designed to introduce students to the growing field of Horticultural Therapy in which gardens and garden based activities are designed to support the physical, mental and social health of individuals. The course will explore a range of aspects of both garden and activity design such as understanding client needs, rehabilitation, special care community, working with all senses and catering for mobility issues. Students study the theory and history of horticultural therapy, and gain experience developing plans and therapeutic activities for a variety of client populations, as well as how best to engage clients in garden based therapeutic activities. Students will also learn about designing facilities for special populations and getting started in establishing and managing a horticultural therapy practice. This coursework will be a foundation for those considering a career in Horticultural Therapy (HT).

Course Objective

- a. To understand the history and practices of Horticultural therapy.
- b. To design and implement Horticultural Therapy to the targeted population activities.
- c. To distinguish the difference between therapeutic, vocational, and social programs.
- d. To learn to set up a Horticultural Therapy garden

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completing the course in horticultural therapy, students will:

- a. Be able to explain the delivery models and systems used in settings where horticultural therapy is currently practiced and where it is emerging as a service
- b. Have achieved entry-level competence through a combination of academic and fieldwork education
- c. Be prepared to articulate and apply horticultural therapy theory and evidence-based evaluations and interventions to achieve expected outcomes
- d. Uphold the ethical standards, values, and attitudes of the horticultural therapy profession
- e. Understand the distinct roles and responsibilities of the horticultural therapist
- f. Be prepared to advocate as a professional for the horticultural therapy services offered and for the recipients of those services
- g. Be prepared to be an effective consumer of the latest research and knowledge bases that support practice and contribute to the growth and dissemination of research and knowledge

b. Post Graduate Diploma in Landscaping and Ornamental Gardening

Landscaping is the art and science of beautifying a tract of land with plants and other materials so as to create a picturesque effect. It includes activities like creation of gardens and parks, selection of suitable plants, arrangements of plants along buildings, water bodies, roads and sculptural works, and maintenance of different components. Landscaping as a profession demands a multidisciplinary approach that includes understanding the land, soil conditions, water management, ornamental floriculture, propagation, nursery management, and crop protection. It also requires designing skills and application of software programs for the efficient execution and implementation of appropriate garden designs. Every new construction in urban areas, be it a residential space, corporate offices, schools, public amenities, highways, or avenue, provides platform for beautification and utilization of free land spaces aesthetically. A trained landscapist is always in demand for meeting the requirements of this trend. In fact, wide gap exists between requirement and availability of landscaping experts in the State. This course provides a new platform for generation of self-employment to young generation in modern agriculture.

Course Objective

- a. To impart knowledge and skill on ornamental gardening, landscape designing, lay out and maintenance.
- b. To develop competency in landscaping professionals who can tackle the dynamic requirements and contemporary developments in the field.
- c. To bridge the gap of employee dearth in the field of landscape designing, which aim to improve the living environment of people.
- d. To promote self-entrepreneurship in the field of floriculture and attract youth towards Horticulture.
- e. To maintain a high standard garden-landscape training centre.
